DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Mark McDaniel, NASA Advisory Council, visits Marshall Wed.

Mark McDaniel, a member of NASA's Advisory Council, will visit Marshall Wednesday. He will receive various briefings and visit the Productivity Enhancement Center and the Space Station Manufacturing and Assembly Facility.

Exchange nut sale 9 a.m.-4 p.m., Bldg. 4752

S&H Barber Shop, Bldg. 4203, closed Thursday, Friday

Software process improvement class Dec. 5-8 at Goddard

A four-day program on software development process and product improvement will be held Dec. 5-8 at Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md. The course is open to GS-13 through Senior Executive Service software engineering management professionals. For more information, call Jackie Clarke at (703) 820-4900, ext. 111.

Learn to turn negatives in your life into positives Dec. 5

A one-day class from 1-4:30 p.m. Dec. 5 in Bldg. 4200, room G-13C will help you cope with the tough times in your life. This course introduces a variety of problem-solving strategies designed to help you work through life's stresses and disappointments. Civil servants may register via AdminSTAR. For more information, call Chrissa Hall at 544-5468.

November is Native American Heritage Month